Introit

(Sung by Choir)

Wisdom 11: 24-25, 27

Your mercy extends to all things, O Lord,
And you despise none of the things you have made.
You overlook the sins of men for the sake of repentance.
You grant them pardon, because you are the Lord, our God.

Responsorial Psalm

Psalm 51

Be mer - ci - ful, O Lord, for we have sinned.

Gospel Acclamation

Praise to You, Lord Je - sus, King of end-less glo - ry;

Ho - nour and praise to You!

The image shows two staves of musical notation in G minor. The first staff contains the melody for the first line of text, and the second staff contains the melody for the second line. The notes are mostly quarter and eighth notes, with some rests and slurs. The lyrics are written below the notes.

(Spare, O Lord, spare your people: do not be angry with us forever)

The Choir sing the following antiphons:

Let us change our garments to sackcloth and ashes, let us fast and weep before the Lord, that our God, rich in mercy, might forgive us our sins.

Let the priests, the ministers of the Lord, stand between the porch and the altar and weep and cry out: Spare, O Lord, spare your people; do not close the mouths of those who sing your praise, O Lord.

(Cf. Joel 2:17; Esther 4:17)

Motet

O Bone Jesu (G. P. da Palestrina, 1525-1594)

O bone Jesu, miserere nobis,
Quia tu creasti nos,
Tu redimísti nos,
Sanguine tuo praetiosíssimo.

*O good Jesus, have mercy on us,
Because you created us,
You have redeemed us
With your most precious blood.*

Offertory Hymn

Mystery of Faith

Save us, Sav-ior of the world, for by your Cross and Res-ur - rec - tion you have set us free.

The musical notation consists of two staves. The first staff contains the melody for the first line of text, and the second staff contains the melody for the second line of text. The notes are simple, with some slurs and rests.

Amen

A - men, A - men, A - - - men.

The musical notation is a single staff with a treble clef. It features a simple melody with a long note on 'men' in the final phrase, indicating a sustained sound.
